PROTECTING WORKERS IN HOTELS, RESTAURANTS AND CATERING

The hotel, restaurant and catering sector (Horeca) covers hotels, bars, pubs, restaurants, contract caterers, fast-food takeaways, cafes and bistros. It is an important job creator in the service sector and employs more than 7.8 million people in the European Union.

Typically, employees work long, irregular hours doing physically demanding work. The risks to workers' safety and health are many and varied, resulting from prolonged standing, carrying and lifting, exposure to high noise levels and working in too hot or cold environments. Workers also suffer cuts and burns, trips, slips and falls, and come into contact with dangerous substances.

The work can be monotonous, stressful and draining. Nevertheless, employers and employees can work together to improve workplace safety and health.

Good risk assessment by - prior identification of hazards is essential to ensure the right issues are being addressed

Management commitment

Worker involvement to ensure all issues are identified and to create the support necessary for the successful implementation of prevention measures
